Adult Protective Investigations

ADULT PROTECTIVE SERVICES

Adult Protective Services is a system of specialized social services to assist vulnerable adults to protect themselves from abuse, neglect, exploitation or self-neglect. Adult Protective Services includes the following:

- on-site investigation of reports of alleged abuse, neglect, exploitation or self-neglect;
- determination of immediate risk to the victim and provision of necessary emergency services;
- evaluation of the need for and provision of protective supervision; and,
- provision of on-going protective services.

NOTICE OF VOLUNTARY DISCLOSURE OF SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

Section 119.071(5)(a)2.a., Florida Statutes, authorizes the Department of Children and Families to request your Social Security Number so long as it states in writing the purpose for the Social Security Number's collection.

The Department utilizes individual Social Security Numbers for services and benefits purposes, for verification and tracking of clients, and to facilitate required criminal background checks and investigations. Such activities are imperative for the performance of the Department's duties and responsibilities as prescribed by law. Further, the Department will not disclose an individual's Social Security Number to anyone outside of the Department except for the purposes mentioned in this disclosure statement or as otherwise mandated by law.

THE PROTECTIVE INVESTIGATION

Florida law requires DCF to investigate all reports alleging abuse, neglect, exploitation or self-neglect of a vulnerable adult. A protective investigator with DCF will visit the vulnerable adult within 24 hours of receiving the report. The protective investigator may:

- interview all people who may have knowledge of the situation;
- review any medical, social, or financial records or documents; and,
- make an initial determination regarding whether further investigation is needed and/or make recommendations and referrals designed to promote the health and safety of the vulnerable adult.

When a person is at risk and will not be safe, DCF may place services to secure the safety of the vulnerable adult including placement with family or into a facility.

FLORIDA LAW

Florida law requires the reporting of known or suspected abuse, neglect, or exploitation of vulnerable adults (elderly or disabled). The Florida Abuse Hotline with the Department of Children and Families (DCF) determines if a report is made. The toll-free number to call is:

1-800-96-ABUSE or 1-800-962-2873

You have been named as a subject in the report.

INFORMATION YOU PROVIDE

By law, any information provided during an investigation is confidential, and there may be criminal and civil penalties with unauthorized release by any person. The information can be used as evidence in court proceedings. Under certain circumstances, DCF must notify certain state agencies, including the state attorney's office and law enforcement.

YOUR RIGHTS

If you are the vulnerable adult, you will be notified when the investigation is complete. The investigator may make recommendations to insure your health and safety.

Meanwhile, your guardian and your caregiver may also be notified. The Victim, the guardian, caregiver, and the person possibly responsible for the abuse, neglect, or exploitation, as well as legal counsel for these individuals, may request a copy of the final investigative report. Please call the Investigative Supervisor listed below to request a copy of the final report.

Anyone interviewed by a DCF investigator has the right to an attorney, at their own expense, to be present at the interview. Any person being interviewed by a DCF investigator may also choose to have another person present provided that person is not an alleged perpetrator in any current DCF investigation. If you are the victim of abuse, neglect, exploitation, or self-neglect, or the victim's spouse, guardian, legal counsel, adult children, or next of kin, you have the right to be present at any court hearing that DCF may initiate in order to protect the victim's health and safety. You will be notified of the date, time, and location of any such hearing.
