The following exhibit was received personally at this laboratory on 6 November, 1975 from Sgt. D.L. CANNING, Firearms Section:

Exhibit 19: charred textile fragments and charred shotgun shell with textile fragment adhering.

PURPOSE:

- a) To identify and compare any fibres adhering to the knife, exhibit G, with those employed in the construction of the jacket, exhibit 63, blouse, exhibit 64, and back portion of brassiere, exhibit 65.
- b) To determine if any cuts present in the jacket, exhibit 63, blouse, exhibit 64, and back portion of brassiere, exhibit 65, could have been caused by the knife, exhibit G.
- c) To compare any human scalp hairs removed from the clothing, exhibits A,B,C,D,E,F, and V, with those removed from the jacket, exhibit 63.
- d) To examine the fragments of brassiere, exhibits 11 and 65, for possible physical relationships.

DATA:

- a) Thirteen (13) fibres removed from the knife and inside the knife sheath were compared microscopically with those employed in the construction of the jacket, exhibit 63, blouse, exhibit 64, and back portion of brassiere, exhibit 65.
 - b) Cuts present in the jacket, exhibit 63, blouse, exhibit 64, and back portion of brassiere, exhibit 65 were examined macroscopically and microscopically.
 - c) Sixteen (16) human scalp hairs removed from exhibits C,D,E,F, and V were compared macroscopically and microscopically with those removed from the jacket, exhibit 63.

e) The charred textile fragments present in exhibit 19 were compared macroscopically and microscopically with the fabrics employed in the construction of the jacket, exhibit 63, blouse, exhibit 64, and back portion of brassiere, exhibit 65.

CONCLUSIONS:

fibres from knife to jacket
a) Five (5) of the thirteen fibres removed from the knife and inside the knife sheath are similar to those employed in the construction of the jacket, exhibit 63, and could have originated from that source or from some other source possessing similar characteristics.

✓ b) Cuts of recent origin are present in the following exhibits as indicated:

Exhibit 63 - Jacket (outer fabric): 9 cuts
Exhibit 63 - Jacket (inner lining): 10 cuts
Exhibit 64 - Blouse : 9 cuts
Exhibit 65 - Back portion of brassiere: 2 cuts

The cuts present in exhibits 63 and 64 are situated within an area of the central back of each garment bounded vertically from approximately 125 mm. (5") below the collar-line to 300 mm. (12") below the collar-line, and horizontally from below the left armpit area across the back approximately 400 mm. (16").

✓ Nine (9) of the ten cuts present in the jacket lining bear a close relationship with regard to size, shape, and relative location to those present in the jacket outer fabric. A tenth cut present in the lining may have resulted from a fold in the lining fabric.

✓ Eight (8) of the nine cuts present in the blouse bear a close relationship to those present in the jacket outer fabric. A ninth cut is displaced approximately 130 mm. (5") from a corresponding cut in the outer jacket fabric.

✓ The cuts present in the above four garments are consistent in size, shape, and relative location with having originated from nine penetrations.

✓ c) The thirty (30) cuts present in the articles of clothing, exhibits 63, 64 and 65 are consistent with having originated, from the knife, exhibit G, or some other object possessing similar characteristics.

d) The sixteen (16) human scalp hairs removed from exhibits C, D, E, F, and V are dissimilar to those removed from the jacket, exhibit 63. gpc

e) The fragments of brassiere, exhibits 11 and 65, originated from the same garment.
The two ends of the portion of brassiere, exhibit 65 (one of which was physically matched to exhibit 11) are indicative of cuts of recent origin.

f) The charred textile fragments present in exhibit 19 are a PLAIN WEAVE cotton fabric, and are dissimilar to those fabrics employed in the construction of exhibit 63, jacket, exhibit 64, blouse, and exhibits 65 and 11, brassiere.

REMARKS:

- a) The phrase "cut of recent origin" means that the garment has not been worn excessively or laundered since the cut occurred.
- b) Exhibit G was transferred personally to C/M H.L. MACEY, Serology Section, on 31 October, 1975 at this laboratory.
- c) Exhibits A,B,C,D,E,F, and V were transferred personally to C/M MACEY on 4 November, 1975 at this laboratory.
- d) Exhibit C-1, grey metal pellet removed personally from exhibit C, was transferred to Sgt. D.R. CANNING, Firearms Section, on 6 November, 1975 at this laboratory.
- e) Exhibit G was received personally from C/M H.L. MACEY, on 13 November, 1975 at this laboratory.
- f) Exhibits G, 11,63,64, and 65 are being retained at this laboratory pending your notification of their disposal or return via the attached diary-dated reply forms, C-422.

The following exhibits were received from Cst. Malcolm J. PEARCE on 29 October 1975:

- #19: One (1) plastic envelope containing the badly burned base portion for a CIL IMPERIAL 12 gauge shotshell.
- #20: One (1) plastic envelope containing lead alloy pellets.
- #62: One (1) glass vial containing lead alloy pellets.
- #74: One (1) glass vial containing lead alloy pellets.
- #77: One (1) unknown brand hacksaw, painted blue.
- #78: One (1) self sealing plastic bag containing two (2) hacksaw blades.
- #88: One (1) large self sealing envelope containing a badly burned portion of shotgun barrel.

The following exhibit was received from C/M C.R. CARROLL, Hair and Fibre Section on 6 November 1975:

- C-1: One (1) plastic vial containing one (1) lead alloy pellet, reported to be from exhibit C (pair of socks).

The following exhibit was received from C/M J.W. MATTHEWS, Firearms Identification Section, on 12 November 1975:

- : One (1) plastic envelope, stapled shut, containing a CEPACOL bottle holding lead alloy pellets and a small beige envelope holding lead alloy pellets.

PURPOSE:

Examination to determine:

- i) whether or not the shotshells exhibits #19, M, N, O and/or P were fired in the shotgun exhibit H.
- ii) whether or not the unfired round of shotgun ammunition exhibit L had at one time been chambered in/extracted from the shotgun exhibit H.
- iii) the "shot size" of the lead alloy pellets exhibits I, J, R, #20, #62, #74, C-1 and the pellets received 12 November 1975.
- iv) the range at which the shot was fired causing the punctures in the jacket exhibit K.
- v) the burned portion of shotgun barrel exhibit #88 was at one time a portion of the barrel on the shotgun exhibit H, and if so, was it cut with the hacksaw/blade combinations exhibits #77/#78.

DATA: The exhibits were examined for the above PURPOSES and the results recorded.

CONCLUSIONS: i) The four (4) expended shotshells exhibits M, N, O and P were fired in the shotgun exhibit H. The primer is missing from the shotshell exhibit #19 and there were no impressions remaining on its surface for examination purposes after it had been burned. The missing primer from exhibit #19 is indicative of this shotshell having been subjected to heat while in an unsupported condition.

ii) The unfired round of shotgun ammunition exhibit L was chambered and extracted at least three (3) times in/from the shotgun exhibit H.

iii) The lead alloy pellets exhibits I, J, R, #20, #62, #74, C-1 and those received on 12 November 1975 are consistent in size and weight with #5 shot pellets.

iv) If the shot causing the punctures in the jacket exhibit K was fired from the shotgun exhibit H using ammunition similar to exhibits L, M, N, O and P then it was probably fired at a distance not less than twenty (20') feet and not more than thirty-two (32') feet, with a range of approximately twenty-six (26') feet between the muzzle of the firearm and the jacket being the most consistent with the pattern on the jacket.

v) The burned portion of shotgun barrel exhibit #88 and the barrel on the shotgun exhibit H can neither be identified nor eliminated as having been at one time one (1) continuous piece. The hacksaw/blade combinations exhibits #77 and #78 have not been identified as having cut the barrel exhibit #88 or the barrel on exhibit H.

REMARKS: i) Exhibit #19, the burned shotshell base portion, was turned over to C/M G.R. CARROLL, Hair and Fibre Section, for examination on 6 November 1975.

ii) Exhibits C-1, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, R, #19, #20, #62, #74, #77, #78, #88 and the pellets received on 12 November 1975 are being retained pending further instructions. Partially completed diary dated reply forms are attached hereto.

Ex. 90 - One sealed plastic bag containing a tube of lipstick reportedly belonging to Kim Rabot.

Ex. 93 - One sealed plastic bag containing two reportedly blood stained cement bags.

PURPOSE:

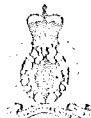

- a) To examine exhibits 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 10A, 10B, 10C, A, B, C, D, E, F and V for the possible presence of any fire accelerant.
- b) To determine if part of the debris in exhibit 52 is plastic and to compare it to the portion of a plastic bag in exhibit 14.
- c) To determine whether or not there is any lipstick present on exhibits A, B, C, D, E, F or V and if any is found to compare it with the tube of lipstick, exhibit 90.
- d) To examine the nose swabs, exhibit 87 to determine whether or not there is any indication of soot or smoke on the swabs.

DATA:

- a) Exhibits 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 10A, 10B, 10C, A, B, C, D, E, F and V were analyzed for the presence of accelerants using a Gas Chromatographic (head space) technique.
- b) The debris in exhibit 52 was examined microscopically and samples of what appeared to be plastic were analyzed and compared with the plastic from exhibit 14 using an Infrared (diamond window) technique.
- c) Exhibit 87 was examined microscopically.
- d) Exhibits C, D, E, F and V were searched for the possible presence of lipstick smears.

CONCLUSIONS:

- a) Exhibits 1 and 2 (tin cans), exhibit 5 (debris from the night table), exhibit 6 (papers) and exhibit D ("Jeans") were all found to contain traces of Naphtha, a light petroleum product which could be used as a fire accelerant.
- b) Exhibit 3 (tin can) and exhibit 8 (bed clothes) were both found to contain traces of gasoline, which can be used as a fire accelerant.
- c) The plastic-like debris from exhibit 52 and plastic from exhibit 14 were found to be chemically similar and consistent with thin film polyethylene.

Dear Diary:

Today is April 7, 1975.

I think I just flunked my first test, a Biology 521 test. I also handed in a half-assed attempt at an essay to [REDACTED] (Eng 421). The reason I did not put much effort into it was because in the essay he handed back the other day he gave me a poor mark, and I know that it would take me much too long to write an essay worthy of better marks, and I have again forced myself to do a rush job on it.

For the last couple of weeks I have been fairly depressed, although over the spring break it wasn't as bad as when I let all my work back up on me. I have the feeling that I am doing the same thing again this term, but somehow I can't seem to get myself to do any work. During my deepest part of my depression a couple of weeks ago I thought of committing suicide, but I don't want to die before I have had the pleasure of fucking some girl. So I decided to order a model gun from an add in Gallery magazine (April, 1975). With this I was going to threaten a girl in one of the dark streets around here and rape her. I planned to carry my father's scout knife strapped to the inside of my right leg. If the girl caused any trouble I would kill her, for I was planning to kill myself anyhow, so I had nothing to lose. (I was also planning to wear a bella-clava so that it would not be necessary to kill her unless she caused some trouble). After that, I am not sure how soon I would kill myself, I would wait for something to cause a deeper depression, and thus a reason for killing myself. The day I would kill myself would be a Sunday, for if I was going to die, the people that made up my family were going to suffer. At first I thought of using the rifle in my father's closet to kill them, but then I thought about the fact that death is the true bliss, and I would not want them to be happy, especially to have them enter the kingdom of death at the same time as myself. So, I decided to set fire to the house, starting by putting gas all over everything, then setting fire to everything from top to the bottom of the house. I would finish in the basement where I was planning on having a fuse leading into the oil drums. I would light this and then shoot myself with the rifle. I was going to make sure, though, that I burned the place down soon after payday so that they would lose the largest possible amount of money. I was also planning on having all my earthly possessions with me so that they wouldn't gain one red cent from me.

On Friday or Saturday night [REDACTED] and I talked about her getting an apartment, and how I too would like to get one, but that there would be no possible way for me to get the money necessary for one.

Recently I went up to Tim's Second Hand Bookstore and bought all of her back issues of Playboy that were complete. On Saturday I went back and bought other mag's, and a couple of these were Nuget magazines. On the inside of the cover of the first one that I opened I found an ad for "Everything" Dolls. These are life-like dolls of a girl that has everything. She has a vagina, and it is an electronically operated male-oriented dildo, (vibrator)

She costs $29.95, and I broke myself ordering her. Now I no longer think that I will have to rape a girl, and am unsure as to whether or not I will still commit suicide.

I have a half hatched idea about using the gun to rob people at night. My excuse for going out at night would be going to the Cartier Square Drill Hall. For the robberies I would not even have to skip going to the Hall, for I could quickly rob someone after, on the way home.

I don't know what else to say now, so I'm going to close. Please see the following page for an invoice on all stag mag's that I own to date, and I am thinking about also listing my S&T's, Moves, Conflicts, and all my games on that page also. So long for now,

Robert Poulin.

There are some girls at school that I would love to be good friends with but I know that I am still too shy to go up to talk to any of them. I wish I could overcome this fear of women. Robert Paulsen 11:59:47

Otitism is caused by a hyper-

3. (a) External Respiration Control-

~~The feeling of being thirsty~~
~~is caused~~
When one exerts oneself, they must take in more oxygen for the formation of energy. Glucose is converted into energy and Carbon dioxide. The CO_2 is given off into the blood, and is carried to the Medulla Oblongata. It is the CO_2 concentration in the blood, not the oxygen concentration, that causes the Medulla to send a message to the intercostal muscles to increase

Bio 521

1. It is in the cortex of the adrenal where most of the chemicals are formed. For example, the (hormones) FSH (Follicle Stimulating hormone) is produced here, and it is responsible for the production of sperm and ripening of the egg.

The LH (Luteinizing hormone) is also produced here. It is used in the menstrual cycle for the development of the egg and preparation of the uterus for a fertilized egg.

Progesterone is also produced here. It too is used in the menstrual cycle and it stops being produced to cause menstruation.

2. Diabetes Mellitus - this is the absence of insulin in the system. Because of this glucose is unable to get through.

c) Acid-Base Balance.

Carbonic acid in the ionized form is used to maintain this homeostasis, using the following equation \rightarrow ~~$[H^+][HCO_3^-]$~~

$$\frac{[H^+][HCO_3^-]}{H_2CO_3} = K(\text{constant}).$$

If sodium bicarbonate is added to the system, the system tends to become ~~acidic~~ alkaline to balance this out.

10 Hydrogen ions link with bicarbonate radicals, forming an acid, and thus the acid and base neutralize each other, and a steady state is maintained.

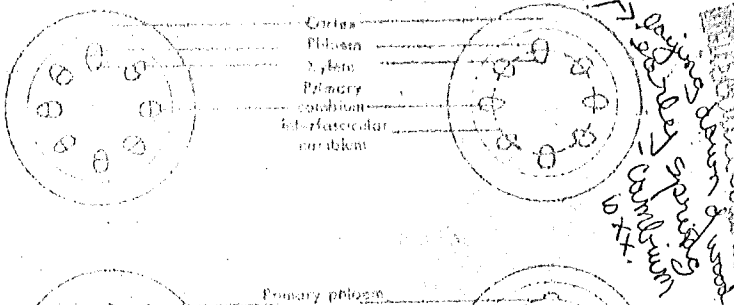

If ~~an acid~~ an acid is added to the system it is ionized, with excess ions being excreted, in order to maintain the balance.
